Dear EPA -

Your goal should be to lift the fish consumption advisory for ALL people.

Your

Draft Plan does not do that, and assurances that the advisory will change generally are pretty weak.

I also believe you should dredge at least 600 acres of that 10-mile stretch of river. It will generate a better cleanup, and help you lift the fish consumption advisory.

The PRPs can pay for this cleanup - even though they will squawk along the way. Let's get this right for the Willamette River.
